Tom Dixon launches PLANE chandelier & holds The Factory Outlet at Design Junction

CLUB & Plane chandelier

September sees us dive into the multifaceted world of clubs. Inspired by the heritage of the traditional British members club, we explore the newly fashionable ways of working, playing and educating oneself in the more extraordinary environments of the new club land.

Part of our CLUB narrative, Tom Dixon launches a series of new lighting products, available to discover in our Shop in September.

New products include:

PLANE chandelier - A new addition to the PLANE collection, where a confident use of simple geometric shapes creates a minimal, sculptural aesthetic: a brass-plated statement chandelier comprising of 18 double-layered white glass spheres distributed over three tiers. This space-filling classic chandelier creates a dramatic feature in any hotel lobby, dining room or restaurant.

Tom says: 'Geometry is a constant in the work. The flat and the round, the shiny and the matt, the reflective and the translucent is just part of the exploration of opposites that we started a couple of years ago.'

BEAT wall light - New addition to our much-loved BEAT family, inspired by the sculptural simplicity of traditional water vessels used in India. Made from spun brass, the BEAT wall light incorporates the familiar hand-beaten shade with a solid brass dimmer dial.

Our COPPER SHADE bronze is now available in 25cm. Made from a polycarbonate sphere, which is vacuum metallised with pure copper interior and pure brass exterior to give a double colour effect.
